

Miyoko Fuse, Healthy Home = Healthy Mind©

Miyoko Fuse, Certified Aging-in-Place Specialist (CAPS), teaches you how to create a safe, healthy home environment inside and out. In addition, she provides unique Japanese design ideas. Miyoko, trained in Feng Shui, includes how Feng Shui is used in designs—a benefit to individuals and the age specialist professional.

Miyoko is a native Japanese from Tokyo and has lived in Portland Oregon nearly 30 years. She established Home Esteem, a home environment design business, in 2004. Her design motto is “Healthy home = Healthy mind” with emphasis on the importance of communication. Besides CAPS (Certified Aging-in-Place Specialist) and CGP (Certified Green Professional), she has been trained in Feng Shui which is the ancient Chinese art and science for living environment.

Miyoko has an MA and BS in communication from Portland State University. She also has an AAS in gerontology and interior design as well as a certificate for kitchen and bath design from Portland Community College. Miyoko lives with her husband. She enjoys camping, hiking, and healthy cooking.
